JAMES WILKERSON

James Claude Wilkerson, Jr., 46, managing editor of The Comanche Chief, passed away at a local hospital, Thursday, March 26 at 7:15 p.m.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church of Comanche, Friday, March 27 at 3 p.m., with his pastor, Rev. Plez Todd, officiating.

Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery.

Life Recounted

James Claude Wilkerson, Jr., 605 N.W. 36th St., Comanche, was born at Dawson, Navarro County, Texas, May 4, 1917. He moved with his parents to Comanche in 1927 from Rockdale, where he had finished the fourth grade, where his father was superintendent of schools. He lived in Comanche the remainder of his life except for the time spent in college.

James was graduated from Comanche High School in 1934 and in the fall entered John Tarleton College at Stephenville and received a diploma from the-then junior college in June 1936.

James then entered the University of Texas where he received a Bachelor of Journalism degree in 1938.

In his high school and college days James was active in sports. In high school James lettered in both football and basketball and represented the school in tennis at the district meets.

At Tarleton, James was a member of the tennis team and lettered in that sport, representing Tarleton in games with other colleges. He also was a member of the staff of the school paper and the college annual. At the University of Texas, he took part in intramural athletics and played basketball, football and tennis.

James also continued his literary work at The University, specializing in feature story writing.

James' love of sports remained with him for the remainder of his life. He will be remembered in Comanche after returning home from college for his basketball as center for the REA team, Sunday afternoon country baseball as centerfielder, and many years on championship softball teams for Higginbotham's. When failing health forced him to give up these sports, he became an enthusiastic "week-end" golfer and bowler and won minor trophies and prizes in each.

James joined the First Methodist Church at Comanche when he was a small boy and remained active in the church the remainder of his life. He was a member of the Official Board most of his adult life.

James was a member of the Comanche Lions Club, the Comanche Chamber of Commerce in which he was past president and a director for a number of years, and the Knights of Pythias.

He was a member of the Texas Press Association, the West Texas Press Association and the South Texas Press Association. When he was a boy he was active in Boy Scout work.

James began his work with The Comanche Chief when he

My Dear Good Friends:
I have just learned of the passing of James and it grieves me to realize that he will be with us no more. However, you must know that he now is at rest in his heavenly home. If ever any young man ever deserved all the great and good things of heaven James would surely be included.

As one who is passing thru the vail my heart goes out to you as you tread the sorrowful road. I humbly pray and ask that the Good Lord will temper the blow with His ineffable goodness.

Under the circumstances I will not be with the large group that will honor James today. My heart is heavy and I am sad over my own recent loss of my beloved wife—which you know about.

God bless all of you.
Sincerely,
Rufus F. Higgs,

I want to tell you all that you have been in my thoughts so much this past week. This is something that seems to unreal until it happens to us. We know personally the sorrow and hurt that others have felt. It is hard for some to truly sympathize with us, unless they know the feeling of losing someone.

I've walked this road. I know of the things that await you all. Anytime, I or my family, is needed please let us know.
My love and thoughts,
Gail Gleaton,

Dear Claude:
I was so sorry to hear, this morning of the sorrow in your family, in the passing of your son.

I was glad that you had the privilege of being, so closely, associated with him in your publishing business. Dwell not, too much, on these last days, but on the pleasure and happiness you have enjoyed together over the years.

Extend my sympathy to your wife and other members of your family, and be comforted in the assurance that "being absent from the body, he is present with the Lord."

With best wishes for your continued well-being, I am Sincereley,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson:
Just a few lines to tell you, you have my sympathy. I know exactly how you feel. It certainly is hard to sit by and see your child suffer and be taken away from you and his family. There is one good thing about it though. You know as I did they are out of their suffering and we know they have a better home now and we can see them again. I wouldn't bring Melba back if I could unless she could have her health. It may seem mean to say, but I felt relief whn she died because I had seen her suffer so much, though she never complained once; but when she passed away, I knew she was through suffering.

My love and prayers be with you in your time of sorrow.

Most sincerely

Dear Mary,
I share your grief and pain because you still seem near to me since we worked together in the Guild while I was District Secretary. Since I heard the news of your loss through radio and newspaper, you have been in my prayers daily. And I do continue to pray that God may comfort you and give you strength to carry on in the days ahead in rearing your children, and for them you can be thankful.

I think I can understand, since I lost my husband and our son was 19 years old at the time. I know how to sympathize truly with you after the many years I went along that way. However, God gave me the great opportunity of helping service in the Guild and the church and I was lifted to higher heights than I had ever known before.

God in His mercy is able to keep when we truly trust in Him.
Love,
Mrs. Marcus (Irene) Durham

God keep you ever in His tender care and may He give you the faith and courage to carry on.
Sincerely,
Mamie Franklin,
Comanche, Texas.

You and your children have been constantly iln my thoughts these last few days and while I am sure that any words of comfort I might write would be weak and fruitless at this time, I wanted you to know that Bo joins me in praying that our Father may assuage your heartache and leave you only cherished memories of your life with a truly wonderful preson.

I know that Jimmy and Marsha must be a great comfort to you. They are such fine looking youngsters.

I will be over to see you within the next few days.
Sincerely,
Gene Brewer,
Brownwood, Texas.

There is so very little now
That one can say or do
To bring you comfort
at this time
And help to strengthen you,
But may it somehow help to ease
This loss that you must bear
To know that there are many hearts
That understand and care.
God bless you and your family.

We were deeply concerned when we read in Saturday's Dallas News of James' untimely death. Of course we know nothing of the circumstances, but are shocked at the fact. We can imagine how severe the loss is to you and all the family.

Please know that our prayers and love are with you all in these days. May God sustain and strengthen you, and give you courage and help for the days ahead.

Please call on us if ever we can be of any help to you.
Your friends,

Dear Marsha:
I can't tell you how very sorry I was when Nancy (Caraway) got back to school yesterday and told me about your father's death. I know that nothing I can say right now is sufficient to comfort you and your family, but I just wanted you to know that I was thinking about you and remembering you in my prayers.

Although I was just with you ten days, I feel as though I know you better than that, for I have kept up with your achievements and activities through Nancy. You're a fine Christian girl, and I know you will find strength from God to face the future. May He bless you.
Sincerely
Lin Stooksbury,

Texas To Tell The Nation Of Sights

AUSTIN—Texas will observe a milestone Sunday, April 5, when for the first time it begins to tell the nation of its myriad vacation attractions.

The message will be beamed to The New York Times' 4 million readers who will see the ad in the newspaper's special Spring Vacation Travel section.

Another 3½ million will read the same ad the following Sunday, April 12, in The Chicago Tribune's first travel section of 1964.

The ads are the vanguard of a newspaper and magazine schedule approved by he new Texas Tourist Development Agency for the balance of the fiscal year which ends August 31. Funds for the advertising, first ever made available by the state, were appropriated last year by the 58th Legislature.

It gave the TTDA a budget of $292,292 for the biennium beginning last September 1. Of the amount, $200,000 was earmarked for travel advertising, promotion and public relations, $80,000 of which was to be spent during the current fiscal year and $120,000 during the fiscal year beginning this September 1.

The first 11½ by 12 inch ads come at a time when most Americans are first beginning to think about where they will spend their vacations this year.

Texas will be presented to winter-weary northeasterners and midwesterners as a spot already offering summertime pleasures—at a time when much of the nation almost twice the combined regis-snow.

Superimposed on a photo of a girl on a Texas beach are eight lines of copy keyed to the idea, "Summer begins right now in Texas!"

Plans call for full page, four-color ads in both Sunset and Redbook and a double page, four-color spread in Reader's Digest. A variety of color photographs, selected to represent each major region of Texas and its vacation highlights, will be used in each magazine ad.

Like the subsequent newspaper ads, the second magazine ad will depict still more of the state's appeal as a vacationland. It will run in the September issues of Sunset, Redbood, Reader's Digest and will, like its predecessor, occupy a full page in both Sunset and Redbook and a double page in Reader's Digest.

Copies of the advertising schedule will be mailed to all current travel advertisers in the state, urging them to consider "tie-in" campaigns with the TTDA. By placing their ads in the same publications and at the same times the state ads appear, the Texas impact upon the reader will be heightened.

All ads were prepared by McCann-Erickson, Inc., of Houston, the advertising agency selected in January to work with the TTDA in telling the Texas travel story. Account director is Kern Tips, well-known advertising executive and Southwest Conference sportscaster.

The current advertising schedule was approved in February by the TTDA's board of advisors. Chairman of the board is James M. Gaines fo San Antonio, president of Southland Industries, Inc. Members are Bill Berger of Hondo, publisher of the Hondo Anvil-Herald and president of the Texas Press Association; Chris Fox of El Paso, vice president of the State National Bank; John McCarty of Dallas, vice president in charge of advertising, Frito-Lay, Inc.; Garner A. (Pop) Mabry of Houston, director of public relations for the Southwest Region, Humble Oil & Refining Company, and John Powell of Austin, partner-owner of Superior Textile Company.

DO IT BETTER Electrically!

COOK flamelessly!

"Really, Martha, the first time you cook with an electric range you'll wonder why you waited so long to see what it's like!"

This bit of conversation is typical of that you'll hear from the thousands of housewives who have made the change to flameless electric cooking. And, it's easy to understand when you consider that with electric cooking simple controls provide recipe-exact temperatures . . . top elements are in direct contact with utensils so that very little heat "spills" out into your kitchen . . . and, with no flame, pots and pans and your entire kitchen stay cleaner.

P.S. to Martha: Before you buy a new range, work up a "Dutch Dinner" evening with a friend or a member of your family who owns an electric range. Try for yourself cooking the flameless electric way. We know you'll like it.

MAJOR HAROLD L. ROBERTS

Major Harold Roberts Receives Army Metal Upon Retirement

FORT HOLABIRD, Md., March 27.—Major Harold L. Roberts was presented the Army Commendation Medal for his distinguished and diversified career in the U. S. Armed Forces during retirement ceremonies at the U. S. Army Intelligence Center, Fort Holabird, Maryland. Major Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberts, Route 4, Comanche, retired from the U. S. Army after more than twenty years service.

Major Roberts served with the U. S. Navy prior to and during World War II on various ships and stations in the Pacific Theater. He saw action in New Guinea, the Phillipines, Two Jima, and Okinawa. During his service with the U. S. Navy, he was a main battery gun captain aboard the famed USS Hutchins which spearheaded the attack on the Japanese fleet in the Battle of Leyte Gulf. The USS Hutchins was credited with sinking a cruiser, a destroyer, and an assist on a battleship. Major Roberts, then Gunner's Mate First Class, was cited for his contribution in that engagement.

He enlisted in the U. S. Army in 1948 and after three years was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant of Artillery at Salzburg, Austria in 1951. Since that time, Major Roberts has had extensive service in Germany with various U. S. Army units where he has been engaged in activities considered vital to the security of the U. S. Forces. Citations by his commanders repeatedly stressed his professional ability, dedication to duty, and service to his unity and to the community in which he lived.

Major Roberts has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal, American Defense Medal, American Campaign Medal, Asiatic-Pacific Medal, Phillipines Liberation Ribbon, Army of Occupation Medal with Clasp, National Defense Service Medal, and Armed Forces Reserves Medal during his military service.

Major Robeerts is a graduate of the University of Maryland.

Major Roberts, his wife, the former Dixie Helen Massingill, who has loyally supported the major since their marriage in 1946, daughtr of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Massingill, 316 N. Houston St., Comanche, are presently residing in Glen Burnie, Maryland, with their three children, Laura, Hal, and David.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my sincere appreciation to Dr. Blackwood and Dr. Flannery and the staff at the Comanchee Hospital, Inc., for the wonderful care I received during my recent stay in the hospital. I also want to thank my friends who sent the beautiful flowers and cards. Sincerely.—Mrs. V. H. Ferguson. (1tp)

Postmaster Urges Use of Zip Code

Comanche Postmaster Jim Carpenter today emphasized the need for cooperation from the public in the use of ZIP code numbers in mailing addresses.

The postmaster stated the use of ZIP is being instituted by the Post Office Department as a method of handling mail mechanically in the future.

As mail volume increases over the years it becomes increasingly more expensive to handle by manual methods; therefore, it becomes necessary to find better methods to maintain the balance of service and cost of operation. This is one method through which you may have a direct bearing on future rate increases.

All patrons are urged to use ZIP code numbers on their letters and parcels. These numbers should be placed on the same line as the city and state and should be approximately two typewritten spaces from the state name or .2 inch written.

The post office will be happy to furnish ZIP numbers for your correspondence if you will submit a prepared list of those you need. There is no charge for this service. For large zoned cities it is necessary to have the street address.

The Chief is pleased to publish the following list of area ZIP numbers for your convenience. Clip and save.

Farm Bureau Plans Fire Demonstration For School Students

Students of Comanche High School will have an opportunity to see for themselves how fire can be man's best friend or his worst enemy by observing a graphic fire demonstration to be presented at 9:30 a.m. on April 15, S. H. Fletcher, superintendent announced today.

The demonstration, to be given in the Comanche High School auditorium, in seven parts, will be given under the direction of Joe Smetana, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

A variety of demonstration equipment will be placed on tables 16 feet in length to illustrate seven basic points: (1) what fire is; (2) how to control fires; (3) the fact that nothing is fireproof; (4) kitchen fires and their control; (5) fuel vapors; (6) the power of petroleum products; and (7) household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits.

Smetana will point out that fire is like a three-legged stool —it can't work with one of the legs missing. The "legs" fire depends on are: (1) fuel, (2) heat, and (3) air. Yet, in American homes these three things come together in deadly and destructive combination every 57 seconds —an average of 1,500 home fires every day, according to Smetana.

"That's eight times the number of fires in factories and stores. Worse yet, four out of five of all fire deaths occur in homes, and for every death there are about 100 serious injuries," the TFB Safety Director explained.

As a part of a program for fire prevention, the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department is presenting this demonstration before the high schools of the state. The program is being brought to Comanche under the sponsorship of the Comanche County Farm Bureau. The public is invited to attend.

VED BY FAITH ONLY??

e majority of the religious denominations in he (and the world) believe that man is saved th only. But WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY this. And surely all who believe the Bible will what it says. NOTICE:

e Bible does teach that man is "justified by Rom. 5:1. But there is a great difference in "justified by faith" and in being justified by ONLY. Because in the next chapter of Romans Paul tells HOW the Romans had been "justi- faith". (Read the whole chapter and note in lar verses 17-18). Paul says that they were BUT, they had obeyed from the heart, the doc- delivered unto them (the gospel); THEN (when beyed) they were made free from sin and became vants of righteousness. Tehis, of course, equals ation and it wasn't by FAITH ONLY. But it "by faith", because faith was necessary before uld "obey from the heart" and it led them to ny other passages could be noted but we will n only one more. We ask that you read James though we quote only verse 24: "Ye see then at by works a man is justified and NOT BY ONLY."

t should settle the question. But note, that is not denying that man is "justified by faith" he affirming that man is justified by works (The works mentioned are simply obedience to ommands.) James is showing that BOTH, faith orks (obedience), are necessary for man's justi- . And using the example of Abraham he says: wrought with his works and by works was ade perfect."

sire, the doctrine of justification by FAITH did not come from the Bible, because the Bible it. It came from the mind of man.

One Texan Dies Every 3 Hours In Auto Accident

AUSTIN, March 16 — Texas motorists, barreling along the streets and highways at a clip of 99,000 miles each minute, killed themselves at the rate of one person every three hours and 12 minutes to rack up the worst year in history for traffic tragedy in 1963.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that DPS Statistical Services officially closed the traffic death book for 1963 at noon Sunday, recording an all-time record of 2,729 motorcides.

"This tragic toll of lives was 308 or 13 per cent higher than in 1962, and 129 or five per cent higher than the previous all-time high of 2,611 in 1956," Garrison said.

"Eve nthough many more miles were traveled in Texas last year than in previous years, the fatality rate per 100 million miles traveled increased from 4.9 deaths in 1962 to 5.2 deaths in 1963.

"We are shocked and saddened by this terrible loss of human life in our state, which was accompanied by untold suffering among an estimated 161,000 persons who were injured, and a staggering economic loss of $432,715,000."

In order to point up the magnitude of the traffic situation in an effort to bring about public awareness of its seriousness, Garrison listed these facts:

—The 312 motorcidese in December 1963 was the highest number for any month on record. Second high was 303 in December 1950.

—Only one day during 1963, Tuesday, September 3, was motorcide free. It followed Labor Day when 22 persons were killed in traffic.

—On both Sunday, May 5 and Friday, December 20 there were 25 persons killed in 17 accidents.

—During 1963 there were 21 days with 15 or more motorcides. There were only 19 in 1962, 14 in 1961 and 13 in 1960.

—The worst accident in 1963 occurred on September 2 in Liberty County where 10 persons were killed in a head-on collision near Dayton. The last previous 10-death accident occurred on February 15, 1959 in Hidalgo County under similar circumstances.

—The estimated economic loss from motor vehicle traffic accidents in 1963 was $13.72 per second.

The Public Safety Director pointed out that the 13 per cent statewide increase in traffic deaths in 1963 was reflected almost equally in rural and urban areas. The rural traffic death increase was 13 per cent, while the urban increase was 12 per cent. He added:

"The fact that this upsurge in traffic fatalities appears to be part of a current national trend —and I might add that many other states had their worst traffic year in 1963—does not alter the seriousness of our situation here in our home state.

"Certainly, with these facts before them, the people of Texas are challenged to do everything in their power to halt this trend which, incidentally, seems to be continuing into the new year.

"The records consistently reflect that two things stand out in general as the leading causes for serious traffic accidents—carelessness and wilfull or unwitting disregard for the laws of safety.

"Therefore, we wish to issue an urgent appeal to all Texans to charge themselves with the responsibility of doing a better and safer job of alert driving and thus bring down this terrible toll of lives and suffering and economic loss in our state."

Senior Class Play To Capacity Crowd

The Hillbillies invaded Comanche High School nineteen strong March 19 when the Senior Class of Comanche High School presented "Hillbilly Weddin'", which is an extremely funny farce of hillbilly life. The cast played to a capacity crowd of some 500 people.

The Belsnickle family, consisting of Paw (Roger Jones), Maw (Marsha Wilkerson), Ceeiie, who ain't never had a bath (Kay Burton), Juney Lou (Lou McCullough), Bonnie Mae (Leslie Hallmark), Four (Paula Johnson), and Five (Phil Cogburn) are in and out of one hilarious situation after another.

Paw and Maw hold a conference at the insistance of Maw and decide that husbands must be "got" for the two older daughters.

This presents quite a problem since one of the girls never 'tuck' a bath and the other one doesn't want to get married. Paw gets his shot gun and decides to "wing 'em nice and easy," pick out the buckshot and have 'em married to his daughters before anyone realizes what has happened.

Stranded in the Belsnickle mountain cabin because of car trouble are Ronald Maxwell, a young medical student (Jerry Foreman) and his haughty aunt (Kay Rachels). Both of the older girls are attracted to the handsome stranger much 'o the disgust of two hillbilly neighbors, Chiz (Charles Wright) and Obeey (Freddie Chappell) Upschalager.

The fun lovin' and fued lovin' cousins arrive on the scene and a fued is begun which seemingly has no end.

Facing a shot gun, the Reverend Freddie Anderson attempts to join the medical student and a dirty hillbilly in the bonds of holy wedlock, when one of the local swains dashes in to the rescue.

Put together the hillibllies, several shot guns, guitars and rattlesnakes and a merry mix-up is sure to follow.

Proceeds from the play will be used to defray expenses of the Senior Class Trip in

I regret that we have never had time to get back down there, but we still hope to someteime.

I will never forget, Mary, that you and Dorothy were the first to come when Dad left us, and Madge and Eldon always remembered how wonderful you were when Susan was ill and passed on. I only wish we could be there to help you all a little.

It is not because I have not thought of you that I have not written you. You have been on my mind continually. I am sure you are being very brave. God will comfort you as no human being can.

May God bless all of you,
Aunt Bob.

I wish to express my sympathy and saw how sorry I am about James' death. I cannot realize he is a grown man with children. He is still a little boy to me. May God's richest blessing be with you all. Your many friends grieve with you.

Yours truly,
Mrs. C. N. Huddleston,

Dear Bill:

I just learned today about James, and certainly you know that I was most shocked and and distressed.

I hate very much that I did not know sooner so I could have offered my assistance, but perhaps there still might be something that a friend could do to help you in some way at the office. If there is any way that I might be of any assistance please do let me know. I hope you do know that I am not just making a token offer, because certainly that is not the case. There is the possibility that work might have stacked up and, if so, we would be most happy to help you out either here at our office or at yours.

Please tell your family that our thoughts and prayers are with them in this time of sorrow and concern — especially James' wife.

Words help very little and not being gifted there isn't much that I can say, but I do hope that all of you can receive some small measure of comfort from knowing that our thoughts are with you at this time.

MORE ABOUT—

came to Comanche at the age of ten, working on Saturdays, after school, and during the summer vacations. He began as shop custodian, printer's devil, and office boy, specializing in melting metal.

James became a partner in The Chief with his father in 1938 just after he had received his degree from The University. He remained active with the firm until his fatal illness.

The only work that James ever did for pay was at The Chief, except for a period of several years during his grade school days when he worked after school hours as a salesman for The Fort Worth Press, the only afternoon paper that was delivered in Comanche at that time. James was the only representative for that newspaper in Comanche and he enjoyed heavy sales, especially on the square and at the hotels which at that time were crowded with traveling salesmen. When he had served the downtown trade, he would get on his bicycle and serve a part of the residences. The paper always carried a continued story which had a great attraction for the readers. The subscribers were not timid about phoning him if they by chance missed a copy as they just had to have that continued story.

James was encouraged to bank his paper profits and as a result he had a nice fund of spending money on hand when he entered college.

When World War II broke out, James was among the first group to answer the call for men, but he failed to pass his physical.

On March 22, 1941 James was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith of Fort Worth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Smith of that city. Mary, a talented girl, was a graduate of Paschal High School, the main high school of that city at the time. After her graduation she worked for one of the bigger firms in Fort Worth where she made a great success.

After their wedding trip to Mexico, they settled in their new home at the family's present home location.

James and Mary were the parents of two children, James Claude Wilkerson III, a sophomore at the University of Texas and Mary Marsha Wilkerson, a senior in Comanche High School.

Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilkerson, Sr. of Comanche; two sisters, Mrs. Charles (Alma Jean) Wetzel and Mrs. Bob (Nancy Jo) Barton, both of Houston; and a brother, William B. Wilkerson, of Comanche, and his business associate in The Chief.

Also surviving are his maternal grandmother, Mrs. O. O. Brightman of Comanche; his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Smith, Sr. of Fort Worth; and a number of uncles and aunts, cousins and other relatives.

PRESTON SMITH
Democratic Candidate
For Lt. Governor

Preston Smith, 38th Lieutenant Governor of Texas, this year is running for a second term in the office he first won in 1962. He is a 52-year-old businessman from Lubbock whose slogan is "Working for Texas."

Smith knows the meaning of that word "work." Born on a farm near Georgetown, the seventh child of a family that grew to 13, young Preston attended public schools in Williamson and Gaines Counties. He worked his way through high school at Lamesa and college at Texas Tech. He never left Lubbock after that, except when official duties took him to Austin and other Texas centers.

Those official duties began with his election to the House of Representatives in 1944. He served six years before voluntarily giving up that place. In 1956 he was returned to the Legislature by his West Texas homefolks, this time as State Senator from an 11-county district. After six years he moved up into the Lieutenant Governor's post.

Preston Smith's reputation as a legislator was for decisiveness, outspoken convictions, fairness in his dealings with his fellow members, and a conservative approach especially when public funds and taxes were involved.

He retained these qualities as Lieutenant Governor, while making an effort to avoid endorsing or opposing specific pieces of legislation in a partisan manner.

As a legislator Smith was the author, co-author or active sponsor of bills establishing a permanent building fund for state colleges, creating the present underground water code, providing stability for the farm-to-market road system, and installing the "Gilmer-Aikin Program" to improve public schools.

During his first session as Lieutenant Governor (1963) the Legislature passed measures to enlarge the state's higher education system, regulate small-loan companies, extend women's legal rights in the area of property ownership and transfer, and create the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Preston Smith is a family man. He and his wife, Ima, have two children. His son Mickey, 22, is a senior at Texas Tech where his daughter, Jan, 18, is a freshman.

Smith is a Methodist, member of the Farm Bureau, director in the Salvation Army and a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Introduction to the report is a letter from President E. H. History-making telephone gain brought total telephones served at the end of 1963 to 379,350.

The president's letter pointed out that the Company has been in negotiations with the Communications Workers of America since June 20, 1963 and that hopes are for an early agreement which wlil "equitably represent the interests of customers, employees and shareowners." Anniversary date of the current labor agreement was July 21, 1963.

Plans for an exchange of properties in Oklahoma between General of the Southwest and Southwestern Bell also is mentioned by Danner in his letter to shareowners.

More Early History Comes to Li On "Comanche's Little Lost Gi

The Chief is grateful to Alice Stokes, 1005 San Benito Drive, Brownwood, for her interesting comments concerning the early day historical story carried last week. Her valuable information concerning "Comanche County's Little Girl Lost", adds a great deal more to the history of the more than 85-year-old recordings of the factual story as told last week by Ed Syers, prominent Texas historian.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL
Comanche Countryside Had Its Little Lost Tot

It was with a great deal of pleasure when I read the editorial in the San Angelo Standard Times, Sunday, March 22, 1964, concerning OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL — Comanche Countryside Had Its Little Lost Tot. The story of little Frances Ellen Spraggins, by Ed Syers.

This story has always held a special fascination and interest to me. Since a child I have always been eager to learn whatever I could about this historical incident. I first learned about this when I was a small child, as in 1926 my parents, the late Martin Hanson, and my mother, bought the Old Spraggins Place. for their special permission to to my mother.

When we moved to this place, 38 years ago, there was a old log cabin still standing in the back of the now present house. We used it as a barn for a number of years. Some of the old logs are still there, and the well was also there. However, as the well was just an open pit, we filled it with rocks, and it is now just a reminder of the history that surrounds it.

This story has always been, more or less, a legend to me. When I read the sweet and impressive story it brought back renewed interest.

I first learned about the incident thru our dear and sweet neighbors, the late Mr. and Mrs. Horace Rogers. Who out a doubt the fi have ever had the knowing.

Mrs. Rogers, in her and understanding ma relate to me stories heard. I would liste interest. How familie far and wide in wag and horseback, offe ing hand in whatever could. With heavy hearts they searched howling coyotes in still of the long nig ly reminded them o added dangers that confronted with.

Thanks, to The Com Which, incidentally, produce the version historical incident in March 27, 1964.

I am,

Sincerely,
Alice Stoke
